Call for Nominations
NAHDO's 2019 Innovation in Data Dissemination Award

The National Association of Health Data Organizations (NAHDO) is soliciting nominations for the 2019 Innovation in Data Dissemination Award. This distinguished award will be presented at NAHDO's 34th Annual Meeting in Little Rock, Arkansas, November 6-8, 2019.

Eligible organizations may be government agencies, non-profit organizations, or for-profit companies, and data dissemination efforts might include websites, advertising campaigns, written reports, or a combination of these and other communication initiatives.

Please include the following information with your nomination:
- Proposed organization's name, mission statement, website address, and contact information for an executive.
- Nominator's name, affiliation, and contact information.
- Narrative justification: An explanation of why the proposed honoree should be the recipient of the Innovation in Data Dissemination Award. The narrative should not exceed one page, single-spaced.

Nominations should be sent via email to the NAHDO Annual Conference Program Committee at info@nahdo.org by August 1st 2019. We will notify all nominators of our decision by August 31st.
View the history of the award here.