STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

About NAHDO and the APCD Council

NAHDO is a member-driven organization that also relies on financial support from partners and sponsors at various levels. We are very appreciative of this support and thank you for your interest.

NAHDO serves the interests of health data organizations, academic institutions, policy makers, healthcare systems, payers, and many others that have a common interest in the availability of high quality and timely health data to inform questions of cost, quality, and access to care. Currently, NAHDO has 43 institutional members. For a full list see nahdo.org/member-list.

The APCD Council is a program of NAHDO in partnership with the University of New Hampshire's Institute for Health Policy and Practice. The APCD Council is a learning network that convenes an expanding group of government, private, non-profit, and academic organizations interested in the development and deployment of state or regional APCDs.
